

Message from the Elohim

through Jhadten Jewall

January 2005

Greetings, oh Children of Light, for we, the Aralim, Angels of Virtues and Strength, do join you now, to deliver our message to illuminate the energies of your year 2005.

Your Earth has been shaken to the very core and each one of you have been touched to the very core of who you are at this time. As the rotation of the Earth has been accelerated in this way, so too the energies of your heart in compassion's name has been accelerated now. Reach out and with us bear the pain and grief of this time, for it is the step towards liberation's time. As thousands suffer in order that the world may move into this new place of care, it is time to now be aware, that Life is a gift so precious and fair. Use wisely the time that is given thee, for each and every hour is being counted now.

2005 carries within it the seeds of great revelation and discoveries, indeed, that shall be the foundation of the 7th Golden Age. Everything that in your world unfolds and how it affects your heart, is the mode through which ascension shall start. As in the ancient days of Atlantis, at the beginning of that great culture, many stood blessed with the wisdom of the dolphins and whales to sound the sound of divinity bound to their souls here on Earth, sending this sound so profound through the crystalline structures of this reality and back into the heart of Father/Mother God/dess. Such clarity and purpose was abound and humans stood proud in their Divinity. Now that time is returning, the opportunity now abounds, for though long the Seal of Solomon bound us in 3rd dimensional frequencies of anchoring the Light from on high, now the circuitry can be complete, rejoined and create the 8fold Seal of Infinity again, through which the Light may manifest the joy and ecstasy of a time newly found.

Focusing your energies in this way will allow the Light to shine so bright into the consciousness of your every day. So you will reap the benefits that do show you and all around the foundations of the Seventh Golden Age. Glory shall radiate from those who through the Flame of the Magdalene can radiate the Light of the new Christ in the Mother's Name. Their crowns shall be adorned with the golden halo of perfection's breath, for the Mother will have opened them to receive the blessings of the new Father's Mind: bringing the consciousness of how to be the love, tenderness, support and maintenance of this time, to guide the powers of discernment and the powers of this new time. Decisions can now be made that in this loop of infinity may manifest the fulfillment of all of your dreams.

Illumined Faith can now proceed from this experience of your own Divinity. For as in the days of Atlantis now, the need to anchor the Love and Compassion and Care is greater still, challenging the Sons and Daughters of Light to now truly connect and let flow the rays of perfection in crystalline clarity and infinite love. As these rays are mastered and anchored now, sent through the Earth and all its realms, through all crystalline levels and layers now, and into the Heart of Mother Earth and thence back into the Heart of Father/Mother God/dess ~ truly now, that circuitry will flow from Their Throne and back to your Hearts of Gold, whence it in the circuitry shall continue to flow. The flow allows the highest light to be anchored and the feedback bright from Father/Mother God/dess confirm the flow, intensify the modulations glow, so that all new things and paradigms may manifest now.

Alas, unto each and every soul a different task is now to be bestowed so that no formula can be taught at this time. However, there is a meter, a measure and rhyme to this unfolding that we now share. It is in the deepest part of your heart to care and care and care, so that the Light so fair may find a channel where it first may flow. It matters not we say the object of this care, be it free from possessiveness and need. To ultimately let go, surrender and allow Their love to flow to place or person where it needs to go will show the perfection of this plan and your place within. Delight fills our hearts and yet we know that great is the necessity of might and focus and discipline now; hence it is we, who come to you now, for we are the Mighty, the Strong that shield the weak, we are the Virtues that bless the meek whose vulnerability now strength becomes. Let us roll out the drums for now the time of decision has come and each and everyone of you must decide: in old structures to abide or to be set free by surrendering to the Love that is and always shall be the very force of Creation itself. We aid, support and assist all those ready to fully live in the Light of Ascension, the Light that shall set you free, for knowledge and wisdom are contained within and we shall initiate all who come into the powers that you have always been.

*Asia and the Hologram of

In the deep pain and sorrow after the Earthquake in Asia on December 26, 2004, I thought my heart would break. It was Jhadten Jewall has worked extensively with light body activations and sound. His greatest wish with all the techniques he uses in his workshops is to assist people in connecting with their soul essence and embodying that higher light here on Earth. In doing so, each person becomes more loving and at peace and in harmony with the current incarnation. The more awareness people have about their essence, the easier it is to move into that place of power, which is love and unity consciousness. In this place one becomes totally loved and supported in their role in this lifetime. Then it is as natural as breathing to love and support everyone else in their roles.

Jhadten has studied sound extensively with people such as Karin Roberts and Tom Kenyon. This and his intensive journeys with the humpback whales has led him to create various workshops on sound. In January 2003, the Elohim Arcturus (Violet Ray) and the Arcturian Light Beings approached him with the inspiration to present new ways of working with light frequencies and sound. This new workshop, Arcturian Holographic Sound/Light Work, is in the vein of St. Germain resp. Merlin and introduces people to the alchemical union of body and soul, heaven and earth, male and female, through light and sound.

The ways of transmitting healing, aligning and loving vibrations through light is well known, however the Arcturian ray is presenting new ways of experiencing this. The light work is based in sacred geometries and is holographic, meaning that it is a three dimensional type of geometry rather than two dimensional. It is very beautiful and extremely effective. The Elohim Arcturus speaks of uniting these vibrations with the vibrations of sound to effect an alchemical union of that which has been separated. This new workshop will be informative and very exciting, a profound experience for everyone.

You will learn various techniques for combining sound with light geometry and these will affect the physical body, especially the endocrine, lymphatic, circulatory, respiratory and digestive systems. These are all part of the changes occurring on the physical levels and will assist you in embodying the higher frequencies, the light and power, of your soul essence, in turn affecting the emotional, mental and spiritual bodies. This will also prove to be of great service to the world around you, Mother Earth and Humanity, it will be an important step in raising the mass consciousness of the world to the level of unity.

in many ways like reliving the disaster of 9/11 and yet this time it was a natural disaster. This seemed to make the event even more painful. This great heave of Mother Earth in her re-brith seemed like an agonizing sigh. That so many people would die, most of these innocent young children, tourists enjoying the holiday season and locals working hard during this Christed time. In an area where the local habitants have so little, to lose even more, seemed so horrific. As the horrors of this tragedy continue to unfold in even greater proportions, my heart could almost not contain the pain. I called out to Father/Mother God/dess to see if there was not something I could offer in prayers and within my abilities. They showed me this hologram of energy and asked me to send the vision of Wholeness and Comfort to the area ~ not only to the people but also to the ocean and land. I began meditating on this energy and imagining this energy covering the area and including all the men, women and children in its vibrational field; gradually the pain in my heart became more bearable . . .

I felt guided to share this with everyone I knew and to use it in my meditation circle, knowing that by transmitting this energy together it would increase the power of the exercise immensely. The power of numbers is valuable at times like this. In the course of transmitting it, I understood that this was an energy that was opening a portal into 2005. The birthing of the energies of 2005 needed another great event of Compassion in order for the energies to be released. Somewhere very deep in our Hearts lies buried and hidden the Keys to Tomorrow. This event is allowing us to access that level and those keys if we choose to care enough.

The news reports say that the quake was so powerful that it actually accelerated the speed of the rotation of the Earth and they are working hard to calculate how much it has changed and how to incorporate this change into our time keeping. It is a metaphor for the change in the speed of our heart vibrations. 9/11 opened our hearts in a devastating way and we all knew that our world would never be the same. I feel as if this is the second experience of compassion that will change our world forever.

It is definitely no coincidence that this is happening during the Fourth Day of Mayan Time Reckoning where revelations and awareness shall emerge as to our future. In the Fourth Day of the Industrial Revolution, electricity, phones etc were discovered, the elements necessary for the Industrial Revolution to occur. That same Day (is actually almost a year: Dec 04, 2004 to Nov 28, 2005) is upon us now. This event mirrors to us and tells us that in the future we must care more and help each other more, I feel. No man is an island now for we are all connected and interdependent. It also draws our attention to the East and to the regions of peaceful spirituality and gentle souls and nurturing landscapes, reminding us of the Beauty and to enjoy it and not to take anything for granted, to value the preciousness of Life.

I hope this hologram will bring you and your loved ones some comfort as it is intended to bring comfort to those in the affected areas and to those connected to lost loved ones in that area. It is hanging in my living room (a room I have to pass through to go to the kitchen, bathroom or bedroom or office) so I see it all the time and send my love. I visualize it when I go to bed to go to sleep and send my love and prayers to that area. Oddly it holds much of the energy of 2005 in its depths. Peace be with you and all souls affected.

You may visualize the hologram when sending love, healing energy, compassion, care, comfort and wholeness to the region.
