

The Sounds Of Heaven

*The Ophanim through Elizabeth Bradley
November 2005*

A personal experience

During this time of great personal change on planet EARTH, we are all being subjected to our own individual 'PLAY'. And it really does seem like an action-packed movie for some – and for others a nightmare they would rather not have chosen.

My own journey began in 1991 – and like many others has contained all the elements of a good movie – death, destruction, loss, separation, fear, pain and the occasional love interest. But nothing could prepare me for the events of August 2005.

Over the preceding years I had faced, I thought, most of my own 'demons'. Prejudices and judgements I didn't even know I had – everything I feared – yes, you guessed it – I found it or it made its way to me. In retrospect it's so easy to analyse and process and move through each and every experience – as one of my wonderful teacher's once said to me: "Elizabeth its only the Monkey Mind". I think that sentence has haunted me, along with "You are Not Your Emotions". Well it sure felt like I was at the time!!!

Anyway, I managed to 'awaken' and find a whole new pathway and life for myself. What kept me going many times when the darkness grew strong was the love of my son. For 20 years he has been the strength that moved beside me, and the laughter that shone into my heart. He watched me cry, scream and kick myself into the new age of peace and enlightenment.

And so we found ourselves in this year, August 2005 to be precise. My son had seemingly 'died' in his bed, following a car crash the previous day. I found him – blue, cold, his heart had stopped – he had swallowed his tongue. I could not move. No amount of training or inner knowledge had prepared me for this moment. All the peace and tranquillity I had felt through the divine presence of Angels and the hierarchy of God could not help, as I stood motionless watching my son. I simply could not move. Everything appeared to go in slow motion – as I watched my partner run into the room, pick him up above his head and shake the life back into his silent body.

He began to fit and shake but he was alive – I breathed again – still unable to move – I had to get an ambulance – in a moment it seemed the house was full of people – we were on our way to hospital my son looked at me: "Where are we mum – what's going on?".

As I look back now on writing this I remember calling to God to help my son: - "Please don't take him yet – please send the angels to protect him – I will do anything for you – whatever you ask – please let him stay".

It is only 3 months since the accident and yet it seems now like a hundred years ago. He is back to his usual self – smiling – singing – playing his guitar and wearing a T-shirt that says GOD.

As I sit and write this, the feelings of peace and tranquillity surround me. Three weeks ago, I was visited by Archangel Uriel. He said many messages would be delivered through me for the EARTH at this time. It was my agreement. Did I choose to accept? My answer was wholly yes. Without hesitation or doubt. AND SO I deliver here today my first message which I hope brings peace and tranquillity to all who read it. Thank you. With love and grace Elizabeth.

From the OPHANIM - Divine Order of Angels

The fabric of time in our known Universe is changing – it now resonates with a completely new frequency of light. We carry thoughts from beyond this time frame to reach you today – 1st November 2005 – although it will have been a projection in time from long ago.

We are the watchmen of your planet. Some might call us 'Keepers of Time' but it is not ours to own or transfer. We have begun a new process realigning cosmic breath with real time – you call it 'digitalisation'. A pattern or sequence that transfers original imprints into newly defined force fields of light or merkabah.

These 'merkabah' carry a resonance of both destruction of old time frames and regeneses codes of renewal and harmonization. Format exercises are being relayed across the interplanetary highways to prepare EARTH and the surrounding planets to receive New Light Codes.

For the inhabitants of this Galaxy, things are happening very quickly. It takes only a moment of realization to begin your newly defined life roles.

We are not instructors or gods to be worshipped or obeyed – indeed those times are relinquishing rapidly. We are messengers of light known by some as the OPHANIM. This time frame deposits crystal energy formations linking us with you through higher vibrations of light codes of sound.

We connect today with the frequency to release all karmic bonds. Yesterday, 31 October 2005, we began this process for this vehicle to receive our transmissions.

For the people of the EARTH it is time to find your true home. Where do you fit NOW? Many things have changed on your planet in this year 2005. Many of you will be making drastic and impromptu moves that you would never have considered before, simply because your heart calls you to MOVE ON.

There will be those who decide it is time to return to the 'spirit home' and here again it could be impromptu.

But for many people of EARTH, your soul is calling you back to that place where you 'fit' with the original codes implanted over 26,000 years ago. Many of the watchers are returning to their homes – their missions fulfilled – as this energy increases.

Through Archangels Metatron, Uriel, Gabriel, Mary and Melchizedek, we ask for divine release through the Sound Codes of Light. The OPHANIM bring us closer than ever before to all beings in the higher dimensions of light and those in spirit.

There has never been a time on this planet EARTH when we could connect with beings of light and those in spirit in the way that we are now able to do. The veils between worlds and dimensions are being redefined. All those who connect with these sound codes will feel a sense of 'real' connection with their own higher self and consequently be able to receive all information requested.

The gifts of prophecy and channelling will not be for the few but for all those who wish to seek them out. This is the difference – as was always meant to be – we are being released from our fears, which have kept us prisoners for so long.

In this profound light we will be able to hear and communicate telepathically – send messages and thoughts across the world – and simply feel as one with the place on which we live – EARTH.

There will be light workers across the Galaxy transmitting these new sound codes – these souls will be messengers of light – who have prepared through many lifetimes for this role. They will act as transmitters. These are people who are able to love everyone, without fear or judgement, unconditionally.

When they are awakened they will recognise these sounds and then carry them forward to their designated areas of light creation.

These people are on EARTH NOW – being awakened NOW – and communicating these sounds for all of humanity NOW.

Through Elizabeth we transmit this message as bringers of love, tranquillity and grace to all beings of EARTH.

Follow your heart in your new journey and see how different things will become around you, very quickly. Always follow where there is love, laughter, music and freedom to speak your own truth.

We serve only love and the code of love. ADONAI, ADONAI, ADONAI, Ain Soph. Kaddoish, Kaddoish, Kaddoish Adonai Tsabyoth. Namaste. OPHANIM

Thank you for listening – I hope this message touches you as it has done me.

CHIRON'S REALM

Swift and sure, my bright and beautiful energies pour love, and the power and wisdom of my neighbouring planets to where it is needed. The depth of my heartfelt energies can heal the inner core of the soul, assuage the wounds and clarify one's purpose.

CHIRON – THE REALM OF CHIRON, 'THE WOUNDED HEALER'

My vision stretches afar, my healing powers come into their own, when offered, and they come in love. I bring the power and intensity of wholeness, it shines radiant as the sun, and also reflects the glorious array of energies and qualities of all the other planets, in the manner of the moon, to offer to you.

In the centre is a heart with a self-realised man in the centre, to show at heart that we all can be like this, revelling in the love of God, seeking and knowing bliss and great harmony and sharing it all!

The two whirling discs are the noumena, the gyrating force of beings beyond your planes. They generate energies that sway the motions of life in your realms, think of it as the guiding forces of God. We look like two eyes looking out of the painting at all people who see it.

You could say we are the focal point of vision for incoming energy, which helps to guide the movements of planets, stars and other galaxies. The pathways of your own destinies, which eventually lead you onwards to infinite journeys and realms, truly, back to the stars and the realms where you all belong.

God bless.
